

Kenneth J. Lange (Ken)

Mr. Lange is a manufacturing executive offering extensive firsthand expertise in operations general management, manufacturing, sales, and marketing. He offers the proven ability to lead, mentor, and motivate the entire business team to higher performance. He is experienced in turnarounds, supply chain management, and business development including ten years with Fortune 500 Emerson.

For the past 12 years, Mr. Lange has served as the Senior Vice President and General Manager, for Auxiliary Systems, Inc. The company specializes in a one-stop-shop for innovative repair solutions for US Navy, US Coast Guard, Military Sealift Command, and commercial ships. ASI is also a diverse manufacturer of six product lines, including three of their own brands of products.

Mr. Lange attained his Bachelor of Business Administration degree with an emphasis in Marketing and Economics from the University of Kentucky, Lexington, in 1987, where he has also completed courses towards his MBA. Prior to UK, Ken attended Bucknell University, Lewisburg, Pennsylvania, 1982 – 1984 where he studied mechanical engineering.

In 1986, having previously walked on the football team at the University of Kentucky, Ken was awarded a full athletic scholarship. At the end of the year, he was selected to the "First Team All-Academic Southeastern Conference" team. Ken has actively participated in the American Architectural Manufacturer's Association, Associated Locksmith Association, Door and Hardware Institute, Bearing Specialist Association, Power Transmission Distributor Association, American Society of Naval Engineers, Virginia Ship Repair Association, Virginia Maritime Association, Chesapeake Area Shelter Team, and Norfolk Emergency Shelter Team.